FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Mindteck Chairman & Managing Director, Yusuf Lanewala, speaks at the Bahrain International eGovernment Forum 2015.

Urges leaders to embrace IT automation for Smart City Governance.

Bengaluru, India – March 26, 2015: Mr. Yusuf Lanewala, Chairman & Managing Director of Mindteck, a global technology company, presented his views on ‘Smart Cities and role of IT in Smart Governance’ to a large group of dignitaries at the Bahrain International eGovernment Forum 2015 held in Bahrain from March 15 – March 19. He participated in an ‘eGovernment Success Stories’ workshop which brought together key industry influencers and government entities to share experiences in the implementation of eGovernment initiatives and Smart Cities. “We are very proud to have been associated as gold sponsors of this conference,” commented Mr. Lanewala. In today’s world, it is becoming increasingly necessary for technology companies and policy makers to work together in creating smart city-based solutions to sustain the unprecedented growth of urbanization”, he further added.

As part the Forum, an IT Expo was held during which time Mindteck showcased their IoT-based solutions. Mindteck’s IGNITE, a versatile Internet of Things (IoT) platform, was on display. IGNITE can be used to build city scale IoT solutions, such as intelligent street lighting, smart parking, EV charging, automated energy/water meter reading, solar power generation monitoring, building energy management and many other smart city solutions.
